

THE CLIMAX.

FRENCH TIPTON, Wm. G. WHITE.
WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 13, 1887.

The President will visit Kansas City, next fall.

The Ohio Republican convention endorsed John Sherman for President.

John Taylor, the head of the Mormon Church, is dead. He will be succeeded by Joseph Smith.

In the death of Hon. Thomas L. Jones, of Newport, Kentucky lost a man who would have made an excellent Governor.

The Democrats of Ohio have nominated Hon. Thomas E. Powell for Governor, and the Republicans have nominated Hon. J. B. Foraker.

Another of the wrong-end-foremost fiends showed up at Grand Rapids, Michigan, last Wednesday. Charles Wenner killed his landlady, Mrs. Bouffay, and then killed himself. Will that hideous class of fellows never cease to exist?

WRONG SEW BY THE EAR.

It was Tim Needham, and not Demaree, who was the Democratic candidate for Representative in Owen county, and he was elected. He and Mr. Demaree have been temperance lecturers ever since the war, but Needham stuck to the glorious old Democratic party while Demaree went off after the Prohibitionists.

BELL COUNTY.

Next to Rowan county, the county of Bell is claiming attention from the State. A gang of outlaws resist arrest and terrorize the entire community. They live on "Yaller" Creek, and nobody will venture out there to interfere with them. A Sheriff's party was fired upon the other day, one man killed and several wounded. The Governor will probably send troops to Bell. The desperado, Andy Johnson, who killed half a dozen men before he was 21 years old, lived in Bell until the United States took him in charge.

ROWAN COUNTY.

When the Tollivers were killed, six weeks ago, the whole State of Kentucky thanked the Lord and felt easier. It was understood that Rowan would speedily become a quiet county, and no longer threaten day by day to cause the State troops to be ordered out. But the Tollivers were certainly not the only outlaws in Rowan, or they were not all killed, for the Sheriff was at Frankfort last week imploring the Governor to send troops at his earliest convenience, and 70 of the Louisville Legion were sent on Monday with a gatling gun. Rowan county requires heroic treatment. The Governor ought to send troops there, and send a judge and a jury, and have every man arrested who has ever taken any part in the troubles of the county, and prosecute them to the limit of the law. The gallows ought to bear abundant fruit in Rowan county, and the penitentiary receive large accessions from the ranks of those not fully ripe for the gallows.

THE OHIO PLATFORM.

The Ohio Republican platform favors a protective tariff; opposes unrestricted immigration; favors a control and supervision by Congress of the elections of representatives to Congress; demands a duty on wool and manufactures thereof; denounces the Cleveland administration; favors liberal pensions to soldiers and sailors; adequate appropriations for the improvement for National waterways and National aid to education if too much revenue be collected to meet public needs, let the tax on tobacco be abolished; the public lands of the Government should be held for actual settlers; favors civil service reform; condemns Cleveland for vetoing pension bills; a vote of sympathy was extended to Ireland; Governor Foraker's administration was endorsed, and especially his declaration that no Rebel flags be returned; endorsed the Dow liquor law; favored legislation securing equal facilities for transportation to all classes.

A MISSIONARY FIELD.

A dispatch says that a "colored girl, aged seven years, has been arrested at Greenville, S. C., for the murder of an infant child one year old by beating it on the head and then concealing the body in a well. She then attempted to murder the child's brother, aged five, but failed."

From another point in South Carolina comes the news that a ten-year-old colored girl murdered a companion, and has been sentenced to death. Whether or not the Governor will interfere with a pardon we do not know. South Carolina is evidently a field for missionary work. The churches, and the schools and courts of that State are inadequate to wrestle with the vast amount of ignorance confronting them. We do not say that South Carolina is the worst of the Southern States, or that the Southern States are worse in the way of crime than others, but the two examples before us indicate that more home missionary work is needed, if at the expense of foreign missions. It is well to save the Japanese, the Chinese, the East Indians, the Africans and the benighted of the heathen of Canada, Alaska, South America, Central America and Mexico, but best to look first to the colored people of the South and the Indians of the West, after liberal attention has been bestowed upon a certain needy class of whites in all parts of the Union.

"Let charity begin at home" is a sentiment worthy of practice.

THE ELECTION.

The unofficial returns show that the entire Democratic ticket was elected in Madison county. The majorities for candidates for Representative stand:

Precincts.	TAYLOR.	CHENAU.
Richmond,	30,	77
Foxworth,	10,	101
Union,	10,	2
Elliston,	14,	42
Yates,	116,	75
Glade,	73,	357
Kirkville,	73,	331
Poosy,	73,	124
Millon,	73,	357
Chenault's Majority,	124	357

General Buckner is believed to have carried the county by nearly 200 majority.

The proposition to donate $1,000 per mile to turnpikes carried.

The vote on the new constitution has not been ascertained.

POLITICAL.

Buckner has carried the State by perhaps thirty thousand. Republican Representatives were elected from Rockcastle, Lee and Estill, Lincoln, Boyle, Mercer and Pulaski, and Bradley carried Garrard, Jones, Democrat, carried Jessamine by only nine votes.

We fear that the Democratic majority in the Legislature has been reduced. The Prohibition vote was exceedingly light, and the Knights of Labor vote even lighter.

THE CONTENTS.

Read this issue of THE CLIMAX carefully and you will find food for thought, besides the local and State news. Under the head of "Opinions of Other Editors" may be had general ideas from prominent sources. The report of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue will require time for proper consideration, and some valuable points are well gathered from it. The report on convict labor in the United States throws light on the labor question, which has of late become decidedly conspicuous. The report of the commissioner of the Bureau of Animal Industry, on pleuro-pneumonia, is of interest to all, and especially the farmer. In the religious column, and among the paragraphs concerning farmers, those interested will find matter to well repay the reader for the effort of perusal. Of the other features we shall not speak, but say that it shall be our aim to work THE CLIMAX up to the highest point of excellence. Changes made in the office have occupied much of our time, and the regular routine work of the office has not fairly been reached.

CAUSES OF FIRES.

A table of fire losses among dwelling houses for one year in the United States has been compiled by an insurance journal. The total was nearly $14,000,000. Defective flues caused a greater loss than any other agency, showing that the workmen who build chimneys have yet much to learn. The next greatest source was incendiaryism, and was followed in the order named by matches, sparks, explosions of lamps, for est and prairie fires, carelessness, gas jets, lamp accidents not explosions, accidents, open fire-places and grates, lightning, fireworks, explosions of oil stoves, stove-pipes, furnaces, hot ashes, locomotive sparks, defective heating apparatus, cigar stumps, firecrackers, tramps, thawing pipes, ignition of grease and oil, loss of accidents not explosions, explosions of gas, ignition of tar, plumbers' furnaces, drunken men, burglars, explosions of natural gas, bonfires, children playing with fire, explosions of gasoline, and defect of lighting apparatus.

Except the four agencies of incendiaryism, matches, sparks and explosions of lamps, the defective flue did more damage than all the other agencies. It is time there were a revolution in construction of flues. That is a cause cable of immediate suppression. Incendiaryism is an unwieldy institution that requires time to effect a change. But the match—the festive, omniscient, little popping match—will in all probability pass incendiaryism on its wild career of destruction, and by the end of another year stand next to that terror, the defective flue. Everybody carries matches, everybody uses them; they are the cheapest article on the market, and may be had on every counter, shelf, table or what not in every locality. You hear them pop under your feet as you walk the floor, or along the pavement, or out in the street. Verily the match problem is a serious one. The match is a necessity with most people, but the recklessness with which it is thrown around and dropped about must be materially modified.

Sparks will be sparks, and you can't set down on them. The usually large destruction arising from them may be expected. Lamp explosions also may be expected; and so may we expect casualties from most all the other agencies above enumerated.

"THE BLOODY CHASE."

The outjoined announcement, exclusively photographed, has been received at this office. The survivors of the late war, of both the Federal and Confederate Armies, will meet in fraternal concourse at Evansville, Ind., Sept. 20, 21, 22, and 23, 1887, under the direction of Faragut Post No. 27, G. A. R., of that city. You are most cordially invited to be present on this patriotic occasion, to take part in celebrating the blessings of Peace and the glories of a Union preserved.

Among the specially interesting features of the Reunion will be the following: Speeches by the most distinguished Generals on both sides. Infantry, Cavalry and Artillery drills for some amounting to $5,000. Grand Steam Battle—1,000 participants. General "Camp Fire" scenes and incidents.

LATONIA DESTROYED.

A whirlwind visited the Latonia race-course at Covington last Wednesday completely wrecking the grand stand, and several stables and moving the pool-table and art gallery out of position. The loss is estimated at $10,000. An effort will be made to rebuild in time for the fair. No other property was injured.

"HOLDING VAST AUDIENCES."

The Courier-Journal of last Wednesday justly criticized Col. Holt, a candidate for Governor before the Democratic Convention. The Courier-Journal said:

Hon. G. A. C. Holt has been heard from for the first time since the State convention. Yesterday, at a barbeque at Calvert City, the Courier-Journal's correspondent reports that "he took the stand and for more than an hour held the vast audience in a speech of masterful logic, unanswerable statistics and eloquent denunciation of the Republican party and its misdoings." Col. Holt can do all those things, as stated, and there has been some surprise expressed that he did not follow the example of Senator Harris and go about the country "holding vast audiences" every day in the interest of the State ticket.

A GREAT VIRGINIAN.

The Stanford Journal speaks as follows of a distinguished Virginian: "Hon. R. M. T. Hunter, once the most prominent man in the Old Dominion, died at his home in Essex county on the 19th, aged 79. He was a member of the 25th, 26th, 27th and 28th Congresses, being Speaker of the 26th. From 1847 till the secession of Virginia he was United States Senator, when he was expelled. He was then a delegate to the Provisional Convention at Richmond, afterwards Confederate Senator and then Secretary of State under the same government. In 1877 he was elected Treasurer of Virginia and served a term. Broken down in health and estate, he was given a small Federal office and from it he eked support till his death. His life is a forcible illustration of the vicissitudes sometimes attending it, and his death snatches another link which binds the present with the past."

DR. STANDFORD DEAD.

On Thursday of last week, in the city of Louisville, Dr. E. D. Standford died of inflammation of the liver in the 56th year of his age. He was three times married, his last marriage occurring six weeks prior to his death. His life was a successful one. He was a successful farmer, an accomplished financier, and altogether a man of great force, courage and enterprise. During his business career he was President of the Red River Iron-works; President of the Louisville Car Wheel Company; President of the Farmers' and Drivers' Bank; President of the Louisville Bridge Company, and President of the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company. He was a member of the State Senate from 1857 till 1872, and from 1872 to 1874 he represented the Fifth Congressional district in the National House of Representatives. Beginning life with a comparatively modest estate, Dr. Standford amassed a fortune estimated at from $1,500,000 to $2,000,000.

PLEURO-PNEUMONIA.

The Chief of the Bureau of Animal Industry has made a preliminary report to the Commissioner of Agriculture in reference to the progress of the work for the suppression of pleuro-pneumonia for six months ended June 30, 1887. He states that the act of Congress, approved March 3, 1887, appropriating $500,000 and giving authority to compensate for diseased and exposed animals, and also to quarantine and disinfect premises, has enabled the bureau to accomplish very much more than had been possible previous to that time. The new rules and regulations made to conform with this act, issued April 15, for co-operation with the various states, though assuming much more authority than the old ones, have been very favorably received. An investigation is recommended to determine the extent of the infection in Pennsylvania, and if this should prove sufficient to endanger the animals of other states, the cattle of Pennsylvania should be placed in quarantine and prohibited from going to other states, unless accompanied by a permit from an Inspector of the Bureau of Animal Industry.

During the six months the officers of this bureau have inspected 2,388 herds in Illinois, containing 12,631 animals. They have made post-mortem examinations on the carcasses of 3,183 animals that have been slaughtered from the infected district, and of these 288 animals showed the signs of contagious pleuro-pneumonia. Since April 20, 1,819 animals have been compulsorily slaughtered in Cook county and paid for by this bureau. Of these 234, or nearly 50 per cent were affected by this disease. Very few affected animals were found, and it is believed that the outbreak is about stamped out. In Maryland 2,406 herds have been inspected, containing 25,729 animals. Of these herds, 238, containing 2,678 animals, were quarantined; the number of diseased animals found in these herds was 744. A total of 1,233 post-mortem examinations have been made on the carcasses of slaughtered animals, showing 795 to have been affected with pleuro-pneumonia. Very few recent cases of the disease have been found, and it is believed that but little more is to be apprehended.

The work in New Jersey has only recently commenced. Four hundred and fifty-three herds, containing 3,815 animals, have been inspected. Twenty herds have been found infected, containing 281 head, of which thirty-five were reported diseased. Twenty-eight animals were slaughtered, of which fifteen were found to have been affected with pleuro-pneumonia. In New York, seventy-nine herds, containing 2,291 animals, were inspected. Of these, forty-five herds were infected and contained 937 animals, of which 125 were reported diseased. The number slaughtered was 117, of which twenty-five showed the lesions of pleuro-pneumonia. The total number of herds inspected during the six months is 5,961, containing 45,094 animals; 298 herds and 11,628 animals have been placed in quarantine, among which were found 934 diseased animals. Post-mortem examinations have been made on the carcasses of 4,657 animals, and showed that 1,044 of these have been affected with pleuro-pneumonia.

FIRE AT GEORGETOWN.

A serious fire occurred at Georgetown on last Wednesday morning, involving property to the extent of $40,000. Among the losers was John A. Bell, editor of the Times, his office being entirely destroyed, entailing a loss of $4,000. Also Sublett & Hawkins, meat store; W. R. Phillips, photograph gallery; John R. Butts, grocery; Uriah Hambrick, store-house; Penn & Rocker, hardware; Alger heirs, store-house; Mrs. Lizzie Sheritt, millinery; Mrs. Nunnally, millinery; Jesse Webb, dwelling. E. C. Barlow, house, $5,000. A telegram adds: "Capt. E. Barlow, a jeweler doing business in this city for the last twenty-five years, made an assignment to-day to Uriah Hambrick, of this city. Assets $24,000; liabilities, $18,000. Capt. Barlow's assignment was precipitated by the fire, which consumed about $5,000 worth of his property. This is the fifth time he has been a sufferer by fire, having lost about $30,000 in that way. He was the Republican Postmaster before President Cleveland's Administration."

THIN COLUMN.

"Going 'Snake' is the name of a district in the Indian Territory.

Frank James is a subscriber to THE CLIMAX and is paid in advance.

Should the Natural Gas company, while boring for gas, strike oil, we presume it would be "oil right."

The town clock has been more or less out of fix for the past three weeks. Hot weather perhaps.

A young lady has presented a gentleman friend with a cake of soap. Has that "any reference to allusions?"

It has been suggested that if "Squire Wood" were the right kind of a Prohibitionist he would tell us to "dry up," when we ask him about the Rebel flag.

C. Heninger, aged 87 years, shot himself through the head in Brooklyn on last Friday, and on the same day in the same city, Hirsch Harris, aged 70 years died. Friday must have been a field day for the boys in Brooklyn.

Stanton, Powell county, is wrought up over the game of croquet. Rev. Mr. Adams of that place has preached a sermon against the "sinful game," and created more or less commotion. What a sinful world this has come to be.

The Standford Journal thus describes a wedding: James A. Etes and Miss Annie Ballard, both of Garrard, came over in the hot, boiling sun Wednesday and at once sought County Clerk Cooper. For the usual fee made and provided for such service he issued the necessary license and Eld. John Bell Gibson being on hand they stood up in the presence of the gaping crowd, which usually assembles on such occasions, and were made one, while the perspiration ran from every pore. Both were good looking and both old enough to choose partners for life, the lady especially so, but they said they wanted to surprise the old folks and so they came off without letting anybody know of their intentions. The couple that could get married when the mercury is playing up above the three figure mark, must be a little more anxious and love a little harder than we can imagine.

MOTHERS! WIVES! DAUGHTERS!

Be your own physician! A lady who for years suffered from distressing female complaints, weakness, etc., so common to her sex, and had despaired of a cure, finally found remedies which completely cured her. Any sufferer can use them and thus cure herself, without the aid of a physician. Two recipes, treatise and full directions free. Sealed. Address Mrs. W. C. Holmes, 658 Broadway, N. Y. Syrup of Figs—Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, Cal., is Nature's Own true Laxative. It is the most easily taken and the most pleasant effective remedy known to cleanse the system when bilious or costive; to dispel headaches, colds and fevers; to cure habitual constipation, indigestion, etc. It is sold in 50 cents and $1.00 bottles by Stockton & Willis.

A NOVEL BET.—While I am not a betting man, said F. J. Cheney, of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., I considered it my religious duty to make that follow bet. You see he was about dead, and I guess he would have died before Spring, if I had not got him on the bet. You know some men had rather lose their lives than lose a hundred; well he was one of that kind, and we both came near being out, but I saved my hundred and it only cost him ten dollars. How that? He sent for me one day and said the doctors had all given him up to die, with the catarrh. I told him that I would bet him $100 that Hall's Catarrh Cure would cure him or I would give him $100 if it failed. He took the latter proposition. This case is now being tried, and you see how the laws now don't pay, as well as any one, and a dandy.—American, Toledo, O.

Premium Bread.—Messrs. Covington, Arnold & Bro., Grocers, offer a premium of $10 on the first day of the Fair for the best loaf of wheat bread, salt rising, and one of $10 for the best loaf of wheat bread, yeast rising, to be baked from their celebrated "Acma" flour, made by Bonanza Roller Mills, Richmond, Ky., July 13-4f.

THE BARBER CHRY FOR IT.—And the old folks laugh when they find the pleasant California liquid fruit remedy. Syrup of Figs is more easily taken and more beneficial in its action than bitter, nauseous medicines. It is a most valuable family remedy to act on the bowels, to cleanse the system, and to dispel colds, headaches and fevers. Manufactured only by the California Fig Syrup Co., San Francisco, California. For sale by White & Stockton.
